Circular Letter No. 73.

San Juan, Feb. 2, 1910.

(Part about English selected from this Circular Letter. The rest has not been copied.)

The number of teachers doing all their work in English has increased from 442 last year to 647 this year. Among these are 83 rural and 11 preparatory teachers. The number teaching partly in English has increased rom 247 to 802. This increase is found mostly in the rural schools, where the teachers give one or more subjects in English.

Yours very truly,

EDWIN G. DEXTER
Commissioner of Education
